This 20km-long EuroVelo 4 stage leads you to the pearl on Normandy's Côte d'Albâtre, Etretat. The excitement mounts as you approach its sensational cliffs, so famously depicted by Impressionist Claude Monet, and the enchanting old town itself, home to French fictional sleuth Arsène Lupin! But before that, enjoy the green countryside and little towns along the way. Saint-Léonard and Les Loges stand out. From Les Loges, you could even take the vélorail option to enjoy a gentle arrival in Etretat!

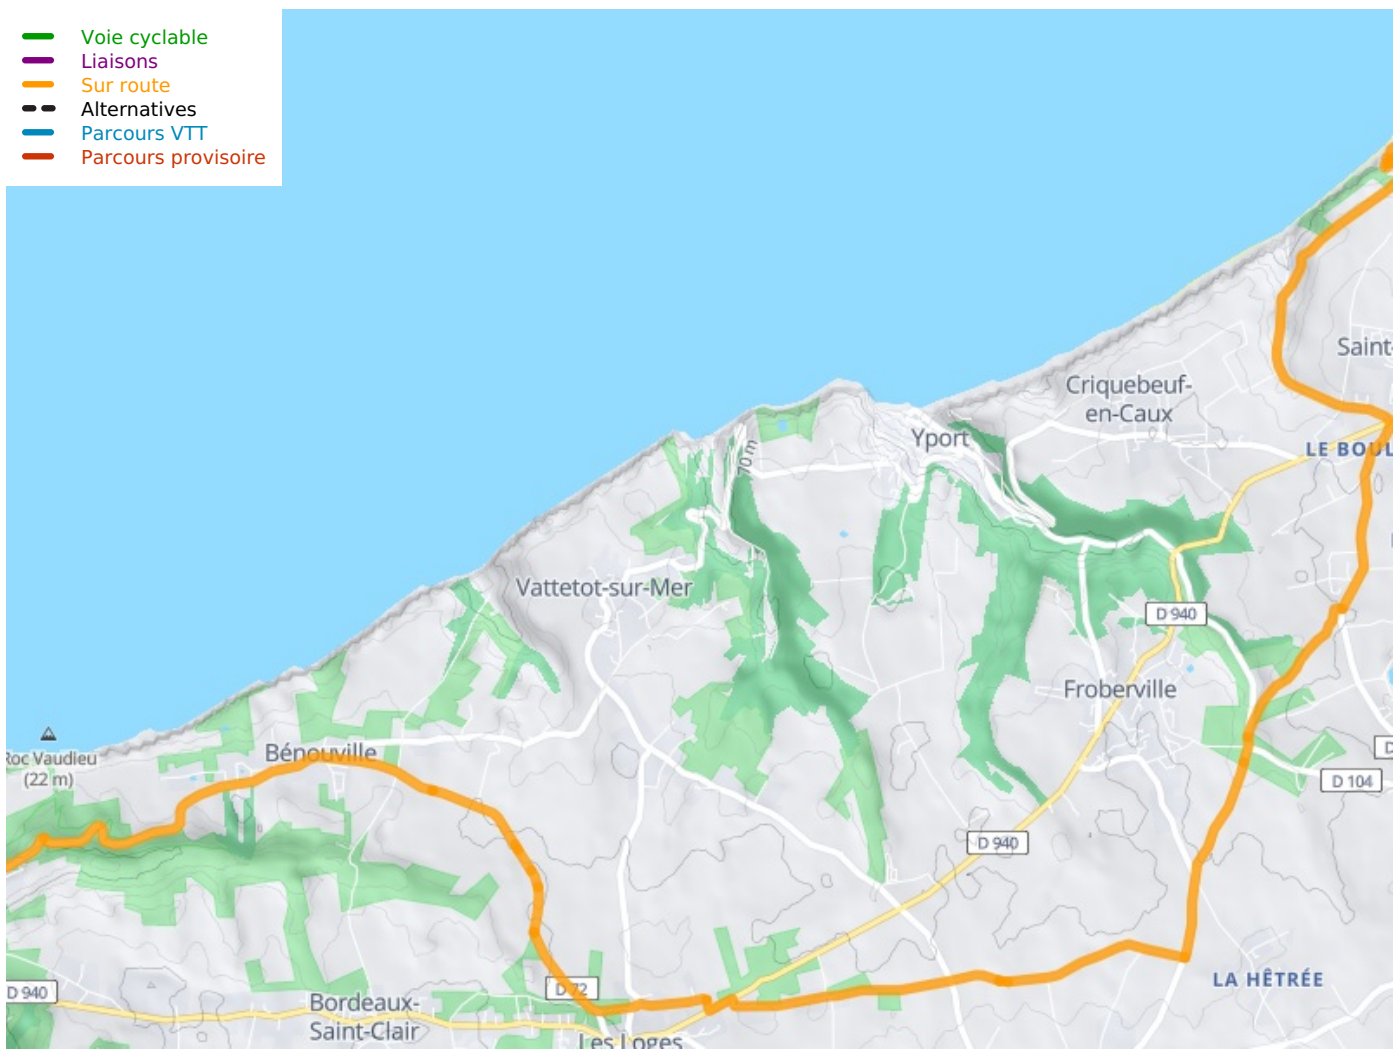

The route

As soon as you leave Fécamp, your calf muscles will be put to the test again! The way leads you straight to Renneville's campsite, which you have to cross. Then you carry on until you join the D940 road. After that, you go through the small towns of Saint-Léonard and Les Loges. This delightful green coastal stretch is a delight to behold right up to Etretat.
