This Vélomaritime stage is packed with history. Leaving Fécamp, admire the breathtaking views from Senneville's coastal semaphore station. Along this stretch, you follow in the footsteps of famed 19th-century Austrian Empress Elisabeth, or Sissi, who found solace bathing in the sea below the cliffs of the Petites and Grandes Dalles and resting at the peaceful Château de Sassetot-le-Mauconduit. For a gentle, family-friendly alternative between Fécamp and Dieppe, ride along the Véloroute du Lin (find more information on this below). Pour une alternative douce et familiale entre Fécamp et Dieppe, empruntez la Véloroute du Lin (plus d'informations ci-dessous).

The route

From Fécamp, this Vélomaritime stage leads you close to the Côte d'Albâtre's finest typical steep little valleys, known as vallées, at Veulette-sur-Mer, Les Grandes Dalles and Les Petites Dalles, and at St Pierre en Port. Although the route itself doesn't go down into these little valleys, to discover these exceptional natural formations only involves short detours. There are many steep gradients along this stage. For a gentle, family-friendly alternative between Fécamp and Dieppe, ride along the Véloroute du Lin.
