

Saint-Quay-Portrieux / Saint-Brieuc

La Vélo maritime / EuroVelo 4

Enjoy a coastal stretch typical of northern Brittany on this Vélo maritime stage, the little resort of Binic-Étables-sur-Mer standing out with its lovely sea views. It offers an ideal place to pause for a rest before carrying on to the city of Saint-Brieuc. The stretches of greenway, one looking down on Binic's port, another taking you via Harel de la Noë Viaduct, are a particular pleasure on a stage that is really demanding, with all its ups and downs. The Port du Légué marks the finishing line of this stage, a perfect place at which to enjoy a well-earned drink at a café terrace.

The route

Mainly along minor roads. There are two sections along greenways, one south of Pordic, taking you over the Parfond du Gouët Viaduct, and one at Binic, leading you above the port. The slopes are steep in many parts.

Major difficulty: negotiating the round-about-cum-interchange at Pordic, along the RD786, provided with a pavement track for cyclists that proves narrow.

Link

From the port of Le Légué, a signposted link of just 4 km allows you to reach the centre of Saint-Brieuc and its station.
