

Saint-Sauveur-le-Vicomte / Bricquebec-en-Cotentin

La Vélo maritime / EuroVelo 4

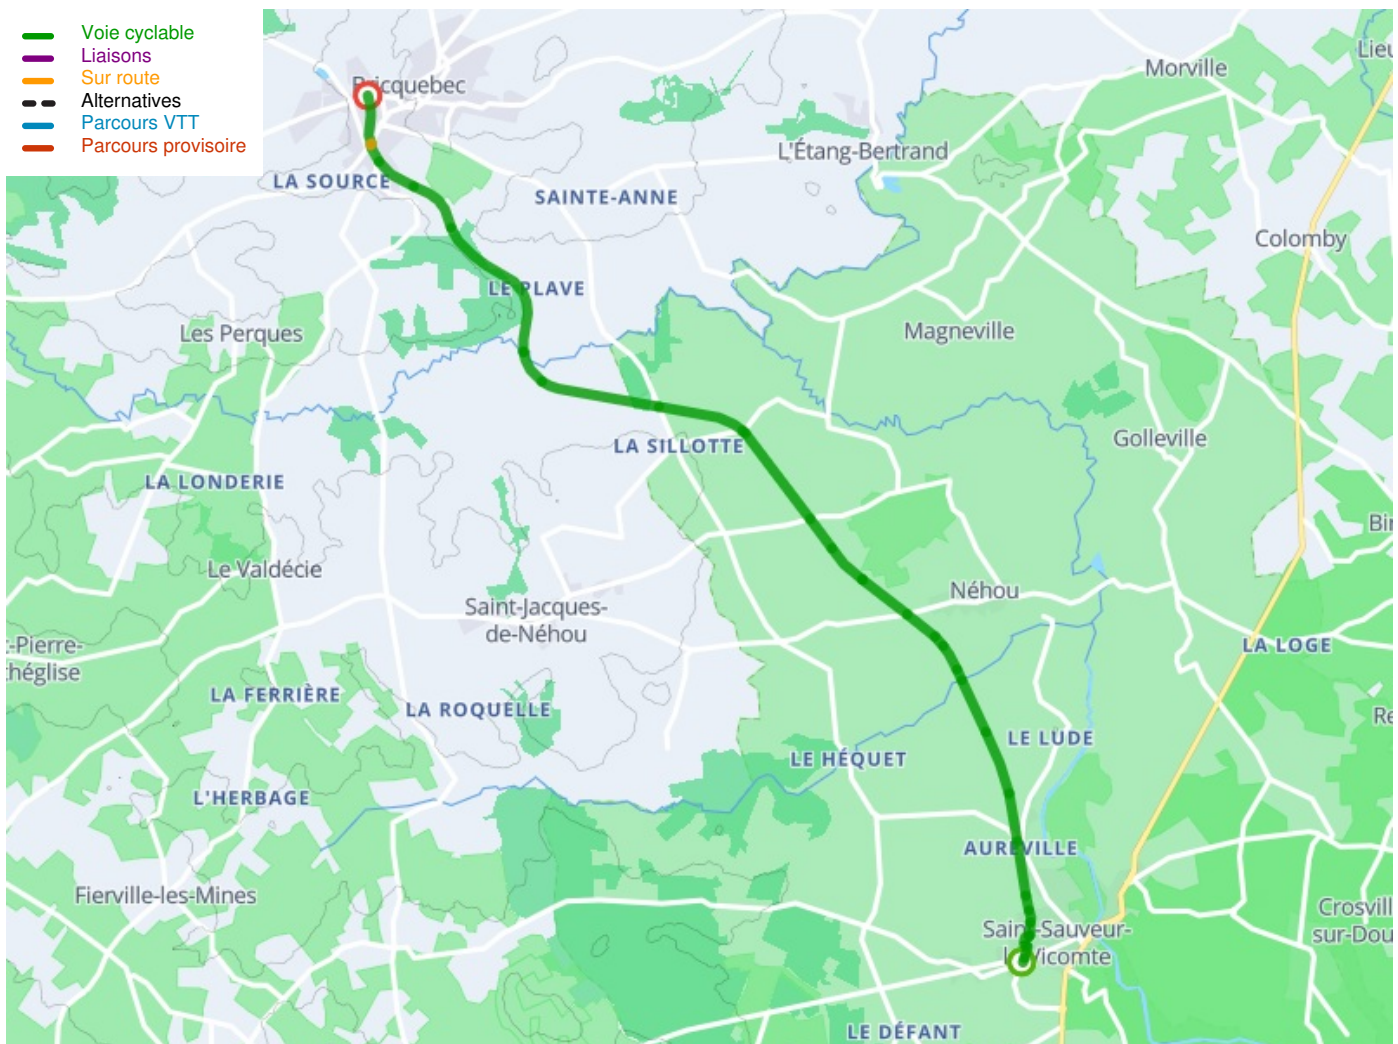

Going from Saint-Sauveur-le-Vicomte to Bricquebec and from one medieval château to another, you cycle peacefully along a safe, peaceful greenway, roughly at the pace of the former little train that used to run along the track here! You're crossing through a Pays d'Art et d'Histoire, Le Clos du Cotentin, a rich cultural area on the edge of the wetlands of the Marais du Cotentin and of the most important state forest in the county of Manche.

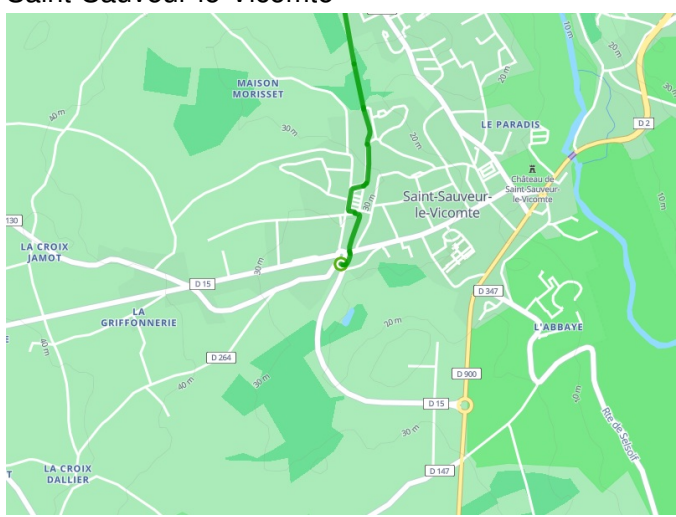

The route

Take great care north of St Sauveur crossing the RD900 road, as visibility is poor here. Then you ride along a lovely, safe greenway which you can tackle roughly at the speed of the former little train that used to run along here towards the village of Briquebec. There are numerous picnic spots along the way.
